STORY

The Gilbert Scott is named after the prolific English architect, Sir George Gilbert Scott, who designed the famous Gothic Revival styled St Pancras Renaissance Hotel. It was the second addition to Marcus Wareing Restaurants in 2011 and is frequently described as one of London's most spectacular dining rooms. A grand English feasting hall, easily accessed by both King's Cross & St Pancras International train stations, The Gilbert Scott is centrally located in the vibrant business & cultural district around Regent's Canal.

Our menus focus on using the finest seasonal produce to create quintessentially British dishes by the talented kitchen team overseen by Marcus Wareing himself.

The wine list has been awarded AA notable wine list of the year, offering the perfect balance of new and old world wines, with some iconic French and Italian references.

THE CHEF'S TABLE

Hidden beneath the stunning 19th century building, is one of London's best kept secrets.

Overlooking the restaurant's engine room, our crescent shaped Chef's Table offers the ultimate dining experience. Our accomplished chefs showcase their skills by creating a delicious surprise tasting menu for you and your guests.

Surrounded by our spectacular wall of wine displaying part of our sommelier's selection of over 350 bins, our wine team will perfectly match wines to complement each dish.

Our dedicated team will look after you and your guests and bring together every element of your event to create a memorable occasion. Perfect for a range of corporate and social gatherings for lunch or dinner.

PRIVATE DINING ROOM

The Gilbert Scott's private dining room, is an elegant space with original features boasting an ornate fireplace, an 18ft high ceiling and full length windows, providing a refined setting for your event. Whether it's a daylight filled gathering for lunch or a more intimate dinner party, our skilled team will be on hand throughout to ensure every detail is looked after.

A concise range of seasonal menus are available, from a 3-course set menu to a 5-course tasting menu, ensuring everyone is taken care of.

Guests are welcome to start their evening with arrival drinks and a canapé reception in George's Bar before continuing in your own exclusive dining room.

Our private dining room also offers endless possibilities for daily corporate hire, from breakfast briefings to board meetings. Find out more about our Day Delegate Rates on request.

We welcome groups of up to 18 guests for any occasion.

GROUP DINING

The Gilbert Scott offers the ultimate grand dining experience for larger events. Larger groups can comfortably be accommodated in a section of the restaurant, seated over a number of smaller social tables with banquette style seating which offer spectacular views of the famous St Pancras clock.

We have a great selection of British inspired menus, which change according to the seasons.

Complete your experience by adding matching wines to complement your menu, with the guidance from our head sommelier.

Our flexible approach enables us to work with you to create a unique and tailored occasion. Allow our events and private dining team to assist you with any additional requirements, from floristry to personalised menus and signed cookbooks by Marcus Wareing.
